NUMBER TWENTY-FOUR

MICHIGAN AVENUE AND TENTH STREET TO BE PAVED

700 ACRES RAW LAND IN OSCEOLA COUNTY BRING OVER $100 PER ACRE

Property Owners Request City Commission to Act on Petition

At the regular first of the month meeting of the City Commission held Tuesday afternoon, when it was planned to pay the city employees and take up only minor affairs that were on hand, a delegation of property owners of Michigan avenue appeared before the commission and requested that work be started on paving of Michigan avenue, according to petition that had been on file for several months. The petition had been waiting its turn with other streets asked for by property owners, and the residents of that avenue desired that action be taken at this time so that all details could be worked out and work begun before present contractors moved their equipment, which will insure getting a lower price for the additional work to be done.

After a thorough discussion of the matter and checking over the petition, the city manager was instructed to have the engineer prepare estimates and arrange for hearings on the matter of probable costs by the property owners as soon as possible. This will be done, and it is anticipated that actual paving may be started early in April. This paving of Michigan avenue will make eight different streets to be paved while work is under way and if the Tenth street petition is secured will make nine streets to be improved. There is likely many other streets that will be called for before the present work is completed.

Massachusetts avenue is complete from the lake to Seventeenth street; New York is to be repaved from Eighth to the lake; Pennsylvania f. the remainder of its length where there is no brick; Florida avenue will be practically completed at the end of this week; Indiana avenue will be ready with water and sewer by the time the Florida avenue work is done; the lake front from Massachusetts east to the city limits; Carolina avenue from Tenth street to the lake will come next; then Michigan avenue, and by that time Tenth street will be ready.

Eleventh street should be paved from Florida to Michigan; Twelfth street from New York to Michigan; Eighth street from Massachusetts to Michigan, even if they cannot be carried all the way through at this time. With business getting better every day and new people coming here to make their homes, these improvements are necessary and it is believed the improvement program will continue throughout the year.

SUNDAY CONCERTS ARE PLEASING TO LARGE AUDIENCES

Each Sunday afternoon the City Park at the Tourist Club is the gathering place of several hundred people from all parts of the country as well as local citizens, who are attracted to that spot at that time by the excellent music being rendered in the Sunday afternoon concert under the direction of Prof. Henke. Each week shows a new feature in the popularity of this fine entertainment provided by the city for tourist and resident alike.

Last Sunday Mr. Frederick J. Smith was soloist for the occasion, and his fine voice won for him much applause. Mr. Smith is a local man and is very popular at all entertainments where he is on the program.

Dr. H. H. Curtis, of Orlando, world-wide traveler, will speak at the Tourist Club House in the City Park next Sunday afternoon immediately after the band concert.

Dr. Curtis recently returned from an extensive tour of Europe, where he visited eight different countries in his travels. He was connected with the final settlement between the Turkish government, the Greeks and Armenians. He visits the largest mosque in the world and was present and assisted in clearing up the ruins of Bagdad after it was burned by the Turks. He aided in reconstruction work in Jerusalem, Cairo and Northern Africa. He was at Damascus when that city was bombarded, hundreds of soldiers being slaughtered.

The general public is invited to be present.

County Commissioners Have Road Problem at Special Meet

An all day session of the county commissioners was held Monday on a call of the Chairman Peter Thomassello, when road matters and certain appointments were taken up. Aside from hearing read an auditors report on the various county offices, the entire day was spent in trying to get road plans mapped out to complete the two million dollar system of roads that was voted last year.

At 9:30 a. m. Chairman Thomassello called the board to order and asked all the members if they had received notice of the meeting, and a full board answered to the roll call. Clerk J. L. Overstreet and Attorney Ellis Davis were present with the board and there was also a large number of visitors from all parts of the county.

The first matter to come up was the case of Mrs. Brown, of St. Cloud who wanted advice what to do to collect what she claims is due her husband for time lost while out of work on account of injury when working for the city. Information was furnished by C. L. Wheat that the city had paid the family some money, and he stated he was sure the city could take care of its own affairs. It is reported that a full settlement was made with this party some time ago.

ODD FELLOWS WILL ATTEND LINCOLN'S DAY CELEBRATION

At a meeting of the Odd Fellows on Tuesday night it was unanimously decided to attend the Lincoln's Day Celebration in a body.

They will meet at the Odd Fellows Hall at 1:30 p. m., to enter the parade. All visiting Odd Fellows are requested to join in the parade.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hahan, of Lake Worth, are visiting friends here.

REGISTRATIONS AT LOCAL HOTELS FOR PAST WEEK

Lists of registrations from the three leading hotels of the city for the past week indicate many newcomers in the city.

Since the opening of the Hunter Arms with each day comes new guests to our city.

The calling of attention to the passengers of the Hotel St. Cloud by the placing during the past week of the large attractive electrical sign adds much to the New York and Tenth street corner.

Mr. and Mrs. B. V. Moon and Mr. and Mrs. James Hahan went to Tampa Monday to attend the fair.

CHAUTAUQUA REPRESENTATIVE DELIGHTED WITH ST. CLOUD

Miss Agnes K. Hisey, representative of the Chautauqua Chautauqua Association, who has been the house guest of her aunt, Mrs. John Massey, on N. Florida avenue, left for Maine today. Miss Hisey is a lady of splendid ability, and has made many friends during her brief stay in the city who will welcome her return to the city. Being so charmed with St. Cloud and its people she plans to spend some time here next season.

Mrs. W. H. Truitt, of West Palm Beach, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Ed George.

DR. DEWITT THOMPSON, OF SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY, TO ADDRESS LINCOLN'S DAY

The G. A. R. Post will have charge of Lincoln Day celebration, Feb. 12th, and have arranged an appropriate program as usual.

They have secured as speaker of the day Rev. Dr. DeWitt B. Thompson, a distinguished lecturer, who will deliver the Lincoln address in the City Park at 2:30 o'clock.

The people of St. Cloud are to be congratulated upon their good fortune in having this opportunity to hear a man of Dr. Thompson's ability. He has been forty years in the ministry of the Methodist Church. For many years he has been an officer of the clergy of New York state and nine years secretary of Syracuse University.

Weather permitting the address will be given in the open park. Dr. Thompson speaking from the band shell.

This will be a rare occasion. Let us make it a memorable day of patriotism.

M. A. Hood Made Another Good Sale This Week, Disposing of Lands in Sections 30, 31, 8 and 25—Price Obtained Satisfactory to Both Parties.

Monday M. A. Hood made another good sale of raw lands in Osceola county to parties in Tampa, the deal being closed with G. W. Glass by Mr. Hood. The lands embrace 300 acres in sections 30 and 31 south of St. Cloud, on the east side of Lake Gentry and 400 acres in sections 8 and 25 in the Lake Wilson section of western Osceola county. All these lands are cut-over timber land and prairie, and are unimproved.

The deal involved a value of $72,000, or more than $100.00 per acre for the lands, and they are located several miles out from either St. Cloud or Kissimmee, or any other town, and this price is a most satisfactory one, considering the condition of the real estate market for the past year.

Some few months ago Mr. Hood sold 1,800 acres of lands just a few miles south of St. Cloud to people in Georgia, and the price at that time, though the total was not made public, was considered by the parties to the deal as a good price for wild land.

That acreage in Osceola county has been moving at a healthy rate during the year is another evidence that this section, in central Florida, has been attracting newcomers when other parts of the state have been at a standstill.

Reports of real estate transfer continue to be good in all parts of Osceola county, as is evidenced by the official report of documents filed in the court house which is published by the Tribune each week. Hundreds of papers are filed for record each week, which is conclusive evidence that the real estate business is not dead in this section. There is always a few people who complain about conditions, but the homeowner is coming right along at a steady rate, and the gradual development of this section is devoid of any boom that would burst and cause severe business depression.

Lands closer in have sold for up to $500 an acre for good truck land and grove property has reached as much as $2,000 an acre with good bearing groves. Where there was unreasonable prices in prices in this section the property is still on the hands of such owners, or has gone back to those from whom it was purchased because the speculator did not pay the balance due on installments. Conditions all along have been good with the honest-to-goodness realtors in St. Cloud and Osceola county, and they will get better as this section fills up.

With the building of the new hard road through the Lake Gentry property purchased in the deal last Monday it is probable that the new owner will begin extensive developments in that section. The Lake Wilson section has a new road top miles complete and a mile and one-half to build to connect with other hard roads in that section. That section is fast being developed by newcomers.

Propose to Pave Tenth Street Thirty Feet Wide Through City

Various property owners along Tenth street are this week working on plans to secure the agreement of the majority of property owners along Tenth street for the two miles that street runs through the city east and west, to have the street paved with concrete thirty feet wide. This effort is being made in view of the fact that the contractors have made a special price to do this additional work while they have their machinery in the city.

If there is a street in the city that needs to be paved with some permanent material, and made wide enough for traffic, it is Tenth street, which is now a part of the main highway through the city east and west. Whether the state road department designates this street as part of the new Kissimmee, St. Cloud, Holopov and Melbourne road, or selects some more feasible route to avoid heavy traffic, this street is needed as the main traveled thoroughfare in and through the city.

Every encouragement should be given these public spirited property owners who are endeavoring to get this plan carried out.

As the matter now stands the city does not know, neither does the county commissioners know if the State Road Department will make use of Tenth street, and the county does not feel disposed to make extensive improvements while the city part is in bad repair due to heavy traffic, and the city does not see any way to rebuild as a city project Tenth street at this time. This leaves the matter up to the property owners to handle in the same manner as paving on the north and south streets have been secured.

An opportunity will be given every property owner on Tenth street that can be reached to join in this plan of paving, and it is hoped that the majority can be secured before the contractors now in the city complete the city contracts, so that the special prices can be obtained while the equipment is on the ground.

Mrs. L. M. Parker and daughter, Miss Mary and Mrs. M. Puckett-Foster and daughter, Miss Mary moved to Davenport Sunday where Judge L. M. Parker has the pastoral charge of the Methodist church. Mrs. Foster spoke at the morning service.

The Chamber of Commerce will furnish automobiles to convey all who wish to ride to park Lincoln's Day, Feb. 12th. Please mail addresses or leave same at Chamber of Commerce on Tenth St. Free automobiles will also be at G. A. R. Hall at two o'clock.

SAINT CLOUD ANNUAL FESTIVAL TO BE HELD LAST WEEK IN FEBRUARY

The Chamber of Commerce luncheon and business meeting held at noon Wednesday was well attended. In the absence of President Wm. Landis, Mrs. Puckett-Foster, vice-president, presided, requesting Dr. Chas. H. Griswold to say grace.

After minutes were read and approved the guests were introduced: Miss E. Lindsay, presented Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Fort, Mr. Zimmerman presented Mr. and Mrs. Higgins, of Boston. Mr. Higgins said that he had only been in our city twenty hours and had never in his experience met such splendid hospitality as they have found here. Dr. Tyler and Mr. Jones were also presented by Mr. Zimmerman. Secretary C. L. Wheat presented the membership of Mr. L. E. Groom and she had as her guest, Mrs. Word.

As was announced at last meeting of chamber, yesterday was the time to make arrangements for the festival. After favorable comment from a number it was unanimously decided to hold another festival the last week in February the exact dates to be announced later.

In discussing the festival, June Gunn, county agent, said that there were enough products of the soil right here in St. Cloud to assemble to make splendid display.

A. C. Ellis was appointed as chairman of the festival committee he to select his associates.

Bible Conference Well Attended Continues Until February 13th

The Bible Conference, held under the auspices of the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago, Ill., is now going on daily at the Baptist Church. The meetings began last Sunday with Rev. C. Edward La Beau as the special speaker. Mr. La Beau spoke three times on Sunday to large and appreciative audiences. His address on the Bible last Sunday evening will long be remembered as one of the most powerful and convincing arguments that the Bible can truly be relied upon to be the Word of God and His message to a dying world.

On Monday evening Mr. La Beau used a large chart painted in different colors to illustrate the leading facts of the Bible. After listening to the lecture as illustrated by the chart one could get a bird's eye view of the teaching of the Bible. The afternoon meetings begin at 2:30 and have been given over to a systematic study of the Epistle to the Ephesians, setting forth the true church in its heavenly position and calling through the Grace of God.

Dr. Henry Ostrom, the great evangelist, associated with Moody and J. Wilbur Chapman, will also take part in the program during the rest of the Bible Conference. Dr. Ostrom is also a great student of the scriptures and one of the popular speakers at Bible conferences. The evangelistic note also be made very prominent during the meetings with the hope that many will lay hold of the opportunity as set before them in the gospel of Jesus Christ.

Another feature of the Bible Conference is the "Question Box," where you have the privilege of writing and dropping in your questions which will be answered by one of the speakers during the meeting. It is to be hoped that many will make use of this privilege.

The meetings will continue every day until Feb. 13th, and with two services daily, 2:30 in the afternoon, and 7:30 every evening and with two speakers on the program at every service. There will also be a Sunday afternoon service as well as the morning and evening meetings. The Bible Conference is strictly inter-denominational in character and spirit and the Christian people and friends of the city are most cordially invited to attend any and all of the services.

WINTER GUEST HAS AN UNUSUAL PET

The prize for this week's big story in the New Hampshire press goes to the Carroll County Independent of Oospee for the following:

"One of the most peculiar and unusual pets ever heard of was one that Mrs. George B. Tebbetts of Oospee had during the summer. It was a white tailed hornet, well known as a vicious stinger.

"She was nearly two weeks taming it so that it would come to her when she held out her hand. Mrs. Tebbetts would talk and hum softly to the hornet until it seemed to gain confidence and would crawl over her hands, arms, neck and face. But when she started to sew or read, it would always go up and sit on the tip of her ear. It would stay there until she would hold up her hand and say 'Come now, Little Bee,' the pet name she gave it. Every morning she would call 'Little Bee' and it would come quickly from out of somewhere, and light on her open hand. But if any person came near her it would fly around excitedly and become so cross that the visitor would have to make a hasty retreat or else be stung. It showed a decidedly jealous disposition.

"Mrs. Tebbetts enjoyed the company of her little pet hornet all through the summer, until the cold weather of autumn came, when it disappeared.

"Mrs. Tebbetts' home is on the road from Oospee Corner to Granite. She will be glad to verify any of the above statements."—Carroll County Independent, Oospee, N. H.

Mrs. Tebbetts with her husband are winter guests in St. Cloud.

Ohio people please remember that on Wednesday, February 9th, the regular meeting will be held at 2 p. m. in the Tourist Club House.

St. Cloud To Be Represented at Debating Contests Next Friday

UNIVERSITY OF FLORIDA, Gainesville, January 29.—(Special).—Debating teams of 50 public schools of Florida will engage in triangular speaking contests next Friday, February 4, in the annual program of the State High School Debating League, according to an announcement here yesterday by H. C. Riley, director of the General Extension Division of the University of Florida, which institution has inaugurated the debates three years ago.

The teams will meet throughout the states at the same time and debate the same subject. The state has been divided into eight districts, and the contests this week will be in the district winners. Each participating school will enter two 2-member teams, an affirmative and a negative, in the first elimination contests. And all debates will be held in neutral territory.

Any school that wins both its debates will be entitled to send one team of two members, capable of debating either side of the subject, to the district contests. This district contest will be held on February 24 in the same manner as the first—that is, the debates will be held in neutral communities.

The winners of the district contests will be sent on to represent their respective districts in the state to be held at the University of Florida on March 3 and 4.

The one subject for all the teams is, "Resolved: That the United States should have a Department of Education with a Secretary in the President's Cabinet." The General Extension Division is prepared to furnish contestants with literature on both sides of the subject.

The Debating League has increased in popularity and size most rapidly since its organization three years ago by the General Extension Division, and public interest in it has grown with it. The first year saw Leval High School the winner, its team being composed of Mabel Glover and Aaron Orendorff. The second year, or 1925-26, Orlando High School came out first, being represented by Charlotte Steinhaus and Richard Magruder.

District No. 6 The sixth district with the several participating schools for the years are as follows:

St. Cloud, affirmative; Lakeland, negative—at Gaines City. Gaines City, affirmative; St. Cloud, negative—at Lakeland. Lakeland, affirmative; Gaines City, negative—at St. Cloud. Vero Beach, affirmative; Stuart, negative—at Port Pierce. Stuart, affirmative; Port Pierce, negative—at Vero Beach. Port Pierce, affirmative; Vero Beach, negative—at Stuart.

ORLANDO BOWMEN HAVE A NEW RANGE

The Orlando Bowmen are holding weekly shoots at the new range on the north side of the fair grounds on each Saturday at 2:30 p. m.

All those who are interested in archery are invited to join the bowmen and enjoy the sport. On Saturday last, at St. Cloud, the bowmen lost to the St. Cloud archers, giving the latter a score of two wins to one for Orlando in the match for the St. Cloud archer's trophy. On February 5th, at the fair grounds, St. Cloud will be Orlando's opponents in the fourth shoot for the Correll cup. Orlando is now behind with one win to two for St. Cloud and the February 5th shoot will be keenly competitive and interesting.

Interest in the sport of archery is showing a healthy increase and as practice improves marksmanship some very lively competition may be looked for.

The Orlando bowmen feel highly elated over the fact that they now have a permanent range with permanent built. This makes it possible for archery enthusiasts to practice any afternoon they may wish to do so.

In the same future they expect to have the range entirely completed for the varying 40, 60, 80 and 100 yards mark. A shelter house is also being planned.

There is, perhaps, no game of skill and endurance that has quite the appeal of archery. The history of this game runs so far back into the past as to be almost indefinite. But it made its high appeal to the experts of Sherwood forest—Robin Hood and his merry bowmen. Sir Walter Scott started its renaissance through his popular novel, Ivanhoe.

The modern bowmen are trying not only to keep up the skill of olden days but also to spread abroad a spirit of chivalry such as was an outstanding feature of manhood in the days of Scott's heroes.—Reporter Star.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR AT-TEND DISTRICT MEETING

Quite a company of the young people members of the Christian Endeavor of the Christian church met at Winter Park Sunday to attend the district rally meeting.

They report an inspiring, helpful program and good social time.

We note with interest the increase in interest and attendance in both the Sabbath school and church services.

One week ago last Sunday there was the largest number in attendance the Sabbath school ever had.

There were two additions to the church last Sabbath and baptismal service was held after the prayer meeting on Wednesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. MacEndeffer were the week-end guest of Mr. and Mrs. Crobaugh.

B. J. RHAME ACCEPTS CASHIER'S PLACE AT BUSHNELL

The Citizens Bank of Bushnell, Fla., was reopened today after having been closed for several months as a result of the crash of the chain system of banks in this state to which it belonged, and B. J. Rhame, former cashier of the Bank of St. Cloud, is cashier of the reorganized bank, according to the Sumner County Times.

A big celebration is being held today to mark the opening which includes, beside a motorcade, public speaking and a chicken picnic dinner. Dr. W. A. McKenna, of Leesburg, and other prominent bankers and business men from neighboring counties are to speak.

The motorcade was to travel from Bushnell this afternoon to Sumnerville, Coleman, Wildwood and Oxford, then back through Wildwood to Leesburg, returning to Bushnell via Center Hill, Mahet, London, Tarrytown and Webster. In this manner the people make known the fact that the bank has been re-opened and ready for business after working out of its difficulties and breaking its connection with the chain system.

Preparations had been made to serve two thousand people, the report stating that 200 chickens and 400 pounds of rice had been purchased for the picnic.

RELIEF CORPS MEET

L. L. Mitchell Relief Corps No. 12 met in regular session in G. A. R. Hall Jan. 27. Musician being absent officers march was omitted.

President Gertrude Balcom called meeting to order and roll call found all officers except musician present. Regular routine of work and business was carried out.

Circular Letter No. 1 issued by chairman of National Americanization Committee was read, making a strong plea for assisting in educating and striving for a higher type of citizenship by developing in the youth a love for God and country. Hold before them the inspiring records of American patriots who have upheld the Nation's honor and directed its destinies. Make every National holiday Americanization day, teaching how to observe those days thus avoiding desecration.

"The greatest Fraternity to which a man can belong is to be found in the United States of America. Learn to know its privileges and your own responsibilities as citizens and feel proud of this great Republic, where the people from every part of the earth are united in one common purpose—Democracy."

Patriotic instructor reported that the flag presented to the Kiwanees Park Sunday School was gratefully received, expressing thanks to the W. R. C. for their thoughtfulness.

Mrs. Perkins then asked for a flag for the Narcosis Sunday School which was granted.

Under new business the Corps voted to have a "Birthday Party" once in two months for all Veterans of the G. A. R. Those whose birthdays come during January and February to be the special guests at the first party to be held on Friday, February 18, in Post room after Post meeting.

We were pleased to have with us again Post Deputy President of Michigan Evelyn Crouse, who gave us inspiration and encouragement by her remarks.

Twenty-eight members and three visitors present. Meeting closed by salute and pledge to the flag. A. E. L., P. C.

MISSIONARY PROGRAM PRESENTED IN PAGEANT

Presenting the program of work for the coming year in pageants, the Woman's Missionary Society of the Baptist Church provided a delightful entertainment for about thirty members last Friday.

After the work was outlined an address Mrs. Moses gave an interesting talk on the work for the year, and light refreshments were then served to those present.

SCHOOL NURSES MONTHLY REPORT FOR JANUARY, 1927

Constant change and transient enrollment of pupils and school demand a great deal of time and extra work. However these conditions are unavoidable and we must make the best of them. The white school at Over Park in September did not have sufficient number of school age to justify a school. Since that time other families have moved into the community and we now have teacher and fifteen pupils. Due to the breaking up and transfer of turpentine camp at Tohopekee the colored school closed there. The teacher and about half of the pupils went to Hahaw making that a two teacher school which, of course, is far better than one and we hope to give them all of the health program we possibly can. The response and cooperation we get in the colored schools are quite gratifying.

In all school work we have given heavy stress on personal hygiene and formation of health habits from which we have obtained wonderful results. Beginning this next month our efforts are to be directed on the importance of proper diet and how to take it to the best advantage. The following suggestions are used on a very attractive poster in each class room:

To be healthy I must eat every day fruit, vegetables, soft cooked eggs, milk, cereal, butter, fish or light meat, whole wheat bread, at least six glasses of water, simple dessert.

How I should eat: Slowly and quietly, only three meals a day, chew food well, eat milk, be happy and courteous at meals.

What I should not eat: Candy before meals, fried foods of any kind, tea or coffee, green fruit, cucumbers or pickles.

Class talks are given by the nurse and emphasized by the teacher how and why these things should be.

I have visited nine schools this month, most of them twice or more, distributed two hundred and fifty booklets issued by the State. Sanitary inspections of school toilets and grounds made this month nine. Two of these are to be repeated at once. General class room inspections sixty seven. Individual inspections of pupils one hundred seven, forty five of these have defects consisting of bad teeth, enlarged tonsils, bad vision and hook worm, have given by Dr. Chum's orders eighteen doses of hook worm treatment.

Individual conferences with mothers 22, with teachers 43, with interested individuals 48, with doctor 10, with Chas. Chas, the national health clown who is to give us a health performance Friday at 2:30 p. m., February 13, in the High School Auditorium, free to all.

Home visits to adults 13, to school children 15, to pre-school children 13. Treatments of small sores and skin conditions 15, advice given to 17.

Beginning February 1st I am sending out request blanks for parents to sign and state if you do or do not want your child to take these treatments to prevent measles, diphtheria or typhoid. Parents will please fill out blanks, read booklets and return all as soon as possible. Am sorry not to have booklet on typhoid. We may have them later. I advise all to take advantage of these treatments. Only one can be taken at a time. If their school test should be negative they may take one of their treatments.

ST. LUKE'S EPISCOPAL SERVICES

On Sunday, February 6th, the rector, Rev. Albert New, will administer the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper at 11 o'clock. Special music will feature the service and the sermon topic is "All to God's Glory."

At evensong, 7:30 o'clock, Mr. New will speak on the life and teachings of the great evangelist, in whose honor the Episcopal church here is named, "St. Luke the Beloved Physician."

The church school will assemble at 9:45, and the Young People's Society will meet in the evening at the usual hour.

We are looking forward to the visit of Bishop Wing on the first Sunday in March. Everybody is most cordially invited to all our services.

The Church Service League of St. Luke's Episcopal Mission church will meet on Thursday afternoon, February 2nd at 2:30.

All members are expected to be present, and all visiting ladies members of the league in other parishes are cordially invited.

FREE SIGHTSEEING TRIP TO HOLLYWOOD "BY THE SEA" Leaving Every Monday at 7:45 A. M. Arrangements can be made at St. Cloud Hotel every Tuesday and Friday. R. C. GLEAVES, Rep.

Confederate Veteran Restored to Good Health Nervous Spells, Indigestion and General Weakness Relieved by Tanlac. Claims It Has No Equal

Austin A. Tremont, who carried the colors of the 21st Infantry from Mississippi, in the Civil War, and residing at 2820 Oak Street, Vicksburg, Mississippi, says: "Tanalac is wonderful. It has helped both my wife and myself."

"I suffered from nervous spells perhaps due to advanced age. I was restless and at times food that I ate caused severe indigestion pains. And my wife suffered similar troubles. We tried a great many remedies without success. Then quite by chance we met Tanlac."

"This tonic has no equal. It has helped us both. It seems to have the power to wipe out stomach troubles, put strength into weakening bodies, and soothe the nerves. Tanlac keeps my stomach, liver and kidneys tuned up and free from poisons."

Tanalac does banish pain that causes broken health. It often subdues serious ailments and builds up strength in famished bodies. It frees the system from the poisons caused by constipation and sluggish liver. It is

Nature's remedy made from roots, herbs and fruits according to the famous Tanlac formula. Enjoy the priceless benefits of strength and good health. Begin taking Tanlac. The first bottle shows amazing results. Ask your druggist for Tanlac—today. Over 40 million bottles sold.

MRS. RACHEL OPHELIA JUDSON

Mrs. Ralph Ophelia Judson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Comfort, was born in the town of Bethel, N. Y., in 1841. She came from a family that had always been interested in church and missionary work, her uncle, Wm. Youngblood, being one of the first misdonaries to be sent out by the Dutch Reformed Church.

By marriage she became related to the famous Adoniram Judson, the first American Baptist Missionary to India, a little over a century ago. Although he first sailed under the auspices of the Congregational Board, he was converted to the Baptist faith as a result of his study of the scriptures while crossing the ocean. He became thoroughly convinced that immersion was the only scriptural mode of baptism and was immersed as soon as he had the opportunity and became connected with the Baptist Missionary Board and although he endured great trials and persecutions he nevertheless wrought a great work and his name will always be remembered as one of the great outstanding missionaries of the modern field.

Her sister here, too, although she had been a good Christian for many years, like the great missionary whose name she now wore, became convinced concerning the scriptural teaching about baptism and was led down into the baptismal waters and immersed when she was seventy years of age, and became connected with the Baptist denomination.

Mrs. Judson has always been interested in every form of missionary and religious welfare work and manifested this interest until the time of her departure. She passed away quietly and yet very suddenly Monday morning, January 24th. She is survived by two sons, Burton Judson of Middletown, N. Y., and John Judson of Plainfield, N. J.; also two daughters, Mrs. Donald Lafferty of Rutherford, N. J., and Mrs. J. R. Van Meter of St. Cloud.

The funeral service will be held Friday afternoon at the Baptist Church in charge of the pastor, Rev. Bert Atchison.

COULD NOT MOVE NECK AN INCH

Relief was immediate and complete after one application

C. M. Ballantine of 55 Kilbowie Road, Clydebank, Glasgow, writes all the way from Scotland to tell of his remarkable experience in getting rid of an acute "crick in the neck."

"I couldn't move my neck an inch," he says. "I applied Sloan's Liniment, hoping that it might ease the pain somewhat. By the time my shaving water was heated, the stiffness had completely gone."

Sloan's Liniment gets these amazing results not by just deadening the nerves but by really helping the body to throw off the cause of the pain. It sends an increased flow of healing, revitalizing blood right to the affected spot, driving out poisons, relaxing tight muscles, restoring healthy muscle-tone.

Get a bottle today and have it on hand. All druggists—35 cents.

VETERANS' ASSOCIATION

The Veterans' Association met at the G. A. R. hall January 22, at 2:00 p. m. The meeting was called to order by the president, Comrade Lathrop, and all joined in singing "America," which was followed by prayer by E. M. Bennett.

After the reading of the minutes "Florida" was sung and the St. Cloud yell given. Collection was taken and announcements made.

Mr. Goodman and Mr. Baumaner talked about the new song books that have been ordered so that the audience can help with the singing.

The social hour was in charge of the daughters of Union Veterans, Mrs. Raymond acting as chairman.

Reading: "What the Order Stands For," which was appreciated.

Mrs. Benedict read "Lament of Patient in Hospital, Do Something For Others."

A musical monologue by Mrs. Hovey, accompanied by Mr. Raymond on the violin was enthusiastically applauded, and as encore she gave "A Frenchman Walking in New York and Trying to Tell the Policemen the Street His Ho-

Chamber of Commerce Minstrels Greeted With Packed House

The minstrels given at the G. A. R. Hall on Thursday night, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, and directed by the Wells Production Company was one of the best local talent programs ever put on.

Considering with few exceptions all who participated made their first appearance and that only ten days was required to put on the entire program, seems almost unbelievable that such a splendid entertainment could be produced.

The first part presented a gorgeous, glittering, spectacularly costumed company of fifty, with C. L. Wheat, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, as interactor, and it was greeted with enthusiastic applause from the audience, which packed the house, many who could not secure seats, standing during the entire evening.

Every one in the entire cast received hearty applause in their special parts. The specialty dance by Miss Carol Henry was artistic and attracted much favorable comment. Everyone laughed until they had a pain at Gus Payne in his "Poor Papa" song and dance specialty. "Flag that Train," by Ritchie Green, was well received.

The audience was captivated with Bob MacPherson's Yodeling. J. G. Hollis, member of the school faculty, was a scream in "Reading for Lovers," having to respond to two encores. One of the delightful numbers, "Lullaby Lane," was by Fred Smith. The minstrel four, Dawley, Bennett, Landless and Porter, always in demand, were called back three times. One number which called forth wild applause was the trio, "White Butterfly," Messieurs Gunnison, Henke and Lindholm.

Not only that our tourists might enjoy with us the evening of wholesome mirth, but with the hope of starting a fund for the purpose of procuring uniforms for our band boys, was this minstrel given. After all expenses were paid the net sum of $105 was left.

VETERANS' ASSOCIATION

The Veterans' Association was called to order by President Lathrop. "America" was sung and prayer was given by Chaplain Brand. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved; the Florida song was sung with a vim and the St. Cloud yell enthusiastically given.

The chair made the following announcements: Michigan Association meeting will be held Wednesday at the club house; the Four 1's and Midwest Union will meet at the same place Tuesday; the W. C. T. U. Convention at the Temple all day Tuesday.

Mr. Goodman gave a talk on singing on Lincoln's birthday.

The social hour was in charge of Comrade Blood. It being McKinley day, Comrade Brown gave an interesting talk about this great and well-beloved man, being personally acquainted with the former president made his address seem so tender.

Mr. Benedict gave a reading, "When you see any one in trouble," also "A Melancholy Woman." All sang, "The Battle Cry of the Republic," led by Comrade Goodman, the chairman. Mrs. Brown gave a reading, "Major Applause." Hango solo by Comrade Worrell accompanied by Comrade Hanchamp with the bones. Reading by Marlon Clark "Nobility." Music by Comrade and Mrs. Raymond, piano and violin, as always heartily applauded. Comrade Lathrop read "It Is Time to Begin to Conclude"; for encore, "He and She." The chorister led the audience in singing "The Battle Cry of Freedom." Mrs. Halsem read "The Lazy Family," which called forth much merriment. Music by Comrade Brinham on the flute, accompanied by Mrs. Nettie Clark on piano. Mr. Shure sang "O Happy Day"; for encore "Old Glory, We Love Thee."

Comrade Kenney, with his own accompaniment on the band, sang "The Song of St. Cloud," and for encore, "No Wonder Men Go Wrong." Comrade Worrell played hango selections. Comrade Blood gave an original poem, a parody on the "Young Oyster."

Closed with one verse of "Star Spangled Banner."

G. A. R. will have charge of program next Saturday.

NARCOOSSA CHAMBER PROPOSES LAW CHANGES

The following new laws and changes in existing laws, after careful consideration, were unanimously adopted by the Narcoossa Chamber of Commerce at its meeting held January 27. The proposed new laws and changes in existing laws follow:

A law providing for the eradication of the cattle tick within a period of two years. (This law is imperative if Florida should ever come into its own as a producer of dairy products and beef. It now costing this state in the aggregate twenty-five million dollars a year as a penalty for the tick.)

A law making it practically impossible for a bank to fail, and in case of failure the officers of said bank failing to be liable to criminal prosecution. (This will require some drastic changes in the state banking laws, but it is necessary as recent bank failures in our state demonstrate.)

A law giving the right to the people to recall any elective officer, state or county. (This law we believe to be the only true democratic form of government if it is to be a government of the people, by the people and for the people. The power of removal from office is now held by the governor; this law would give that right to the people.)

A law prohibiting Boards of County Commissioners and County School Boards from paying any fees or commissions to attorneys of those boards other than their regular monthly salary for any service performed by such attorneys under order of such boards.

A law providing that a maximum fee of one thousand dollars to be allowed for all legal services in connection with a county or district bond issue. That the law be so drawn as to provide a charge of five per cent on the first ten thousand dollars and one-tenth of one per cent on all amounts above that figure until the maximum of one thousand dollars has been reached.

ST. CLOUD AS TOURIST CENTER

Not long since, over in the park, I overheard some gentlemen discussing the different Florida cities, as desirable winter resorts.

One gentleman remarked he had found the people of St. Cloud the most sociable of any city he has visited. I think any one that was in the park last Saturday afternoon, would have corroborated his statement.

The following notes were made at that time, by one of the tourist, 64 ladies and 28 gentlemen playing cards, 24 playing on the shuffle boards, 4 at Honque, 4 at lawn tennis, 4 playing checkers and 45 interestingly watching the various games all with the most perfect harmony and good feeling as I did not hear an oath, or unkind word, surely this corroborated the above estimate of the sociability of the people of this city.

Better Baking

Good baking results are assured by the perfect air circulation of Perfection Ovens. All excess moisture and odors are carried away. For the fast baking of biscuits, or the slow baking of angel food, you will find Perfection Ovens splendid. They can be used with equal satisfaction on gas, oil, and other types of stoves.

The steady, even flame of the Perfection Oil Stove is a big aid, too, to better baking. Once set, the flame will not creep or crawl. You can forget about your baking until it's time to take it out.

WHAT IS A BOY SCOUT?

Taken from the Civic Course of the Atlantic Public Schools

"Scout" used to mean the one on watch for the rest. It has been made to fit the town as well as the wilderness and suited to peace time instead of war. A scout is an expert in life-craft as well as in wood-craft, for he is trained in heart as well as in hand. Scouting is broad enough to cover riding, swimming, tramping, trail-finding, photography, first aid, camping, handicraft, loyalty, citizenship, courtesy, thrift, courage and kindness with many other subjects.

The things appeal to boys. They love the woods. They wish to have well developed muscles, not those of a great athlete, but those of a sound body that will not fail them. They desire to be expert campers who can always make themselves comfortable out of doors, and swimmers that fear no waters. They desire the knowledge to help the wounded quickly, and make them cool and self-reliant in an emergency.

A scout enjoys a trip into the woods more than he does a walk over the smoky streets of the city. He can tie a knot that will hold, he can swim a river, he can pitch a tent, he can tell a bear in his trousers, he can tell you which fruits and seeds are poisonous and which are not; he can identify birds and animals and fish and knows the ways and home of each.

A scout sees many things that others do not see, because his eyes are keen; he sees much, but is little seen.

A scout does not show his wisdom from the house; he holds the quiet power that comes from knowledge. He speaks softly and answers questions modestly.

A scout holds his honor to be his most precious possession, and would rather die than have it stained. He knows what is his duty and all obligations imposed by duty he carries out of his own free will. His sense of honor is his only taskmaster, and he guards his honor as closely as did the knights of old. In this manner a scout wins the confidence and good will of all people.

A scout can make himself known to a brother scout wherever he may be by a method which only scouts can know. He has brothers in every city in the land and in every country in the world. Wherever he goes he can give his sign and he will get a cordial welcome. He can talk with a brother scout without making a sound or he can make known his message by imitating the sound of a telegraph key.

A scout is kind to everything that lives. He knows that horses, cats, and dogs have their rights and he respects them. A scout does a good turn each day, and he does not call it a day until he has helped some other person.

A scout knows people expect more of him than they do of other boys and he guards his behavior so that no reproach can truthfully be brought against the great brotherhood to which he has pledged his loyalty. He seeks always to make the word "Scout" worthy of the respect of people whose opinions have value. He wears his uniform worthily.

A scout is a patriot and is always ready to serve his country at a minute's notice. He loves old glory and knows the proper forms of respect to it. He never allows his folds to touch the ground. He develops a strong body, an alert mind, and an unconquerable spirit so that he may serve his country in need. He patterns his life after those of great Americans who have had a high sense of duty and who have served the nation well.

A scout chooses as his motto "Be Prepared" and he tries to prepare himself for anything—to rescue a companion, to ford a stream, to gather fire-wood, to help strangers, to distinguish right from wrong, to serve his fellowmen, his country and his God—always to "Be Prepared."

A scout is prepared for what? He is prepared to bind up bleeding wounds and broken bones, to save lives from drowning, to help the Red Cross, the police and fire departments in emergencies, and to serve his country, his God and his fellowmen on every occasion. The slogan "Be Prepared" is without meaning except when it is tied to the scout habit of doing a good turn each day. Many people talk of this weather but never do anything to improve it. The boy scout in addition to his slogan of "Preparedness" has adopted the habit of "Doing a good turn daily," putting into practice day by day the ideas of loyalty, helpfulness and courtesy. He is a friend to all and a brother to every other scout.

The Heds of Russian are trying to

Students from the St. Cloud High school will be judges of stock at the Tampa Fair next Saturday. This school has several medals and cups
won at previous fairs.

If road matters do not run, the County Commissioners "bug house"
this year, Osceola county will soon
have a fine system of hard-surfaced highways reaching all parts of the county.

Tampa's Fair, the biggest and best in the state, is in full swing, and indications are the weather man will favor the thousands of Floridians and visitors that will be crowded into Tampa this week and a few days of next.

The first issue of the Florida State News will appear on February 8, according to Publisher W. C. Hunter. It will be a daily of state-wide circulation, giving special attention to official Tallahassee. There is a field for such a paper.

Motorists in Florida paid out more than $50,000,000 during the year 1936
for gasoline, according to a statement from Tallahassee. Some fueling, I reckon! And the State of Florida got over $10,000,000 of that big gas bill to build good roads for those jornding
motorists. So much for the gasoline tax.

Keep in mind that street paving can be secured at better prices now than there are contractors here with their equipment ready to do additional work, than it will be possible to get the work done for after a contractor has moved his machinery away from the city. Get your plans ready now for these extra streets that need to be paved to complete a thorough system of good streets in the city.

Persons intending to present any local measures to the coming session of the Florida Legislature should advertise the title and text of such bill at once, as the law requires that all local bills must be advertised sixty days before presentation for passage, and word has been passed down the line
that the next session will insist on proof of such publication. By local bills, I mean a law that applies to only one city, county, or school board,
district, or minor subdivision of the state government.

Tampa race track promoters are
have more legal troubles. No sooner did they get a writ of supercedens in the supreme court which allowed them
to resume their race programs than comes along another warrant from the prosecutors office to stop them again.
It is said that Florida law prohibits betting on horse races or dog races,
but all sections of the state have caught the fever from the success of the Miami track at Hialeah. Some county officials try to stop the races;
others do stop them; some just go
about their business as usual.

The Western Kiwaness Commissioners District can congratulate themselves that they are well represented
on the Board of County Commissioners in Nathan Bryan. Although the youngest member of the board this year, he is probably the most active in attending to county business. He investigates every matter thoroughly so that when the board meets he has facts before him in dealing with matters that come before the board. He is not selfish, either, as he is ready to look after the interests of the whole county, not alone the district from which he was selected in the primary.

The Narcotics Chamber of Commerce is advocating four new measures, and will present them to the representative from this county, asking that he introduce them and work for their passage. They include a cattle dipping program that would eliminate
the tick from the state in two years;
a law providing for recall of a state

and county officials; a law making it practically impossible for a bank to fail, and in case of failure making the officers criminally liable for the failure; a law prohibiting the county commissioners from paying additional fees
to their attorneys, other than their regular salary, for any work done for such boards and a law allowing a maximum of one thousand dollars for valuation of any bond issue, based on 5 per cent on the amount of the bond
until such fees shall reach one thousand dollars. With the exception of the recall measure these all appear to be bills in the interests of the taxpayers of the state. Experience has taught us that the recall is more often abused than it is made the means of rendering good service to the people.
An officeholder can be removed for cause at any time by action of the people through the governor, but the recall has been made the weapon of unscrupulous corrupt politicians so many times that it has long since been abandoned in most of the United States.

WE ARE MADE OF THE DUST OF THE EARTH

Those of us who are so deeply absorbed in real estate and its values
may find interest in a few paragraphs from the sermon preached by Rev. Cas-tin J. Felton, pastor of the Second Christian Church of Irvington, N. Y.
His topic was, "The most valuable piece of real estate in this city." This is the way he said it:

"Since we are taught in the Bible
that we are made of the dust of the earth, you can understand that the most valuable piece of real estate in Irvington to you is yourself. In yourself is contained your happiness or
your misery, your value or lack of value, your success or your failure. Within you alone is the final determination of what you are, what you shall be and what you do. Nothing else is of value to you, in comparison to what is within your own being.

"Nothing else can bring to you real pleasure unless you have properly
cultivated your piece of real estate,
nothing can make you more miserable
if you have not properly cultivated it.

"Since this piece of ground is so valuable to us, it is a very foolish thing not to make the very best of it. The task of self cultivation is no small one.
One of the first things to do is to cultivate the best possible disposition. Another is the development of right interests and the proper estimation of values. You can tell something of the character of an individual by noting the things he is interested in. Learn to appreciate the beautiful in flowers,
in pictures, in scenery, in living. Develop the desire to grow in knowledge,
in character, ability and appreciation of the good in everything.

"The trouble with a lot of the human real estate is that it is not properly tilled; it is not made to produce as it should. Too many weeds are permitted to grow where there should be real cultivation of good fruits.

"There is a good lesson in Rev. Fel-ton's sermon—a lesson that should be learned early in life and followed closely to the end of this earthly pilgrimage. Always that valuable piece of real estate, which is YOU, should be carefully guarded and improved. It can be made to produce many abundant crops—crops from which you, your neighbor, your city, your state, and your country may be enriched, and the most important of these are the crops of honesty, integrity and good fellowship.—Hollywood News.

A GOOD SLOGAN

Florida has chosen "Optimism and Work" as the State slogan, following
the big wind and temporary land slump. It's an excellent slogan, especially if you put the heavy accent on
"WORK."

Florida's future is assured as one of the great national sun parlor.
Incidentally, at this moment, you can't
for love, money or puff, engage rooms
for the season at the big Palm Beach
hotel.

Another good slogan for Florida
would be "Give us railroad men like St. Davies Warfield." Transportation
is to a State what blood is to the body.
Mr. Warfield, a born fighter, and successful in the face of vicious opposition, has forced new branches of his Seaboard Air Line system in Florida, carrying passengers direct from the North to Miami without change of cars.

A far-sighted railroad man is as valuable to a State as a great Governor, and as scarce.

A Little At a Time

According to a morning paper women are now buying dresses on the installment system. We seem to have seen some of them wearing the first installment.

Satisfied

Long-suffering Tallor—You recently inherited money. Why not pay me
what you owe me?

He Clined—I wouldn't like people
to think that inheriting money has changed my habits.

Take That

"Now then what should a polite little boy say to a lady who has given him a penny for carrying her parcels?"
"I am too polite to say it, madam."

Just Plain

Social Worker—Do you believe in the transmigration of souls?
Fisherman—Well, no, sir. I have seen fish in the ordinary way.

To Make Sure

"If every young girl had a hobby at

AS CALM AS AN ELM.
TERRIBLE CHINESE—BUT.
EASY TO LIVE LONGER.
GIRTH CONTROL.

This, as Will Rogers would say,
is written on the train traveling
from Washington to New York.

Millions of Americans will be glad to hear that the President,
seen two hours ago, seemed in perfect health, full of energy, and amid all the Nicaragua-Mexico excitement, calm as a Vermont elm.

What appears to interest the President just now is internal improvement, projects for canals
from the farms and facilities to the sea, and development of unused waters for power and irrigation, in particular development of the Colorado River.

President Coolidge speaks just as fast, and no faster. He knows every word that he is going to say before he says it. Words do not come out and surprise him, as happens with others.

You can't hurry him, or choose his subject for him. And as for holding him back, when he means
to go in a certain direction, why,
to "draw up the Leviathan with a hook" would be child's play, compared with it.

Chinese mobs are looting Christian churches. Too bad, and it fills us with horror. Americans, British, French and other travelers brought home all sorts of loot
from Chinese temples after the Boxer uprising. But that was different, the Chinese are only heathens.

Charles Chaplin, never very heavy, has lost 15 pounds since his latest worries began. The worst illness is MENTAL illness. Chaplin who has made millions happy and never made anybody unhappy,
would seem to have a just complaint against fate.

The Senate rejects the Laurance
treaty, so this country remains cut off from official acquaintance with Turkey and that energetic dictator, Kemal Pasha. The treaty is rejected because it doesn't provide adequate protection for Christians,
or any solution of the eternal Armenian question.

The rejection of the treaty is largely a triumph for Christians
missionaries.

Twenty was the average age at which men died in the year 1650.
In 1850 the average age was forty.
In 1875 it was forty-five, and now
it is fifty-eight.

The able Dr. Mayo supplies
these figures. With the right kind of living, ten years can be added to present average, and we begin wise living at the right age. The famous Luigi Cornaro, however,
given up to his after forty, lived wisely and passed 160.

American business men, Dr.
Mayo says, "lack girth control."
Too much fat means shorter life.
The dangerous age for women is sixteen to eighteen. The dangerous age for men is from fifty to fifty-five. At that age he becomes foolish.

Little things are important in big things. Mr. Blume, president of the Western Electric Company,
tells us that telephoning across
the Atlantic Ocean is made possible by a small object manufactured from Rochelle salts.

And now the British manual for Royal Air Force pilots orders them
to chew gum as they come down
from high altitudes. Chewing gum creates saliva, and that keeps the flier swallowing. The act of swallowing relieves pressure on the ear
drum.

"Fearfully and wonderfully
made" is correct.

Cats near Bakersfield California,
can sympathize with Milton, who changed into gold everything he touched, and nearly starved. California's cats were cheered, then horrified, by rolling waves of migrating mice. First they ate some, then ran from them in horror. Too much, even of mice, is too much.

That's What We Always Wondered

The teacher had been lecturing his class on the wisdom often displayed by the wisdom often displayed by animals and birds. He compared it with that of human beings, to the latter's disappointment.

Having finished his discourse, he invited his pupils to ask questions
bearing on the subject.

"Well," said the teacher, "what is it you want to know?"

"I want to know, sir," was the reply, "what makes chickens know how big one egg-cake are?"

THINGS THAT MAKE YOU SORE

By A. B. CHAPIN

Dr. Frank Crane Says

Love is Important

Probably the most important crisis
in any individual's life is when he or she falls in love.

This is the most intense experience
which humanity is subject to.

It has more to do with the happiness of one's life, more to do with the making or unmaking of one's character than almost anything else.

Most of us do not live in our intelligence, but we live in our emotions.
We live by sentiment. And the experience of falling in love stirs the deepest emotions of the human heart.

It is doubtful whether any creative work is ever undertaken unless under the stimulus of his passion. We know that the finest in poetry, in music,
and in literature owes to it its inception.

It is more important for a man
rightly to pick out the kind of woman whom he is to love than to make any other decision. And it is well known that love plays the most important part in every woman's life.

About Your Health

Things You Should Know

by John Joseph Gaines, M.D.

WINTER-DAY SUGGESTIONS.

In days, when the front door is kept closed as much as possible,
and the windows are jealously guarded,—when ventilation holds discomfort along with its purifying influence, I cannot help thinking of the increased liability of infection within the winter quarters of those who live in the frigid temperatures of our northern states.
The out-door members of our families are abroad during the day,
either from choice or necessity.
Being exposed, they "pick up"
colds, bronchial infections, throat
disturbances febrile in character, and, certainly communicable. They bring their complaints home with them. Children going to school are extremely liable to contract lung or throat diseases, by their association with groups some of whom are almost certain to be carriers of respiratory germs.
Somebody in the family may be tubercular—a most serious infection.

What I am driving at is, to avoid the spread of disease in the home where we spend our evenings, or should, if we do not. I do not like to hear of colds "going through families," and I am convinced that such misfortune
can be prevented by intelligent precaution. Under no circumstances should expectorated matter be permitted to dry within the sitting-room or bed-room. The handkerchief used by a sufferer should be thrown in a vessel of water when soiled.

Then, coughs should be carefully
disciplined; a hard cough will hurl bacteria ten feet. It may be deadly to sit in front of a tubercular
who coughs immoderately without training for safety. It is just as easy to dispose of expectorated
matter before it dries, and sickness
may be prevented by kindly restriction. Try it in your home.

ter is in the hands of the comparative young people. In other words, the decision of a subject that is most important in the life does not depend upon the old or the mature, but upon
the young and impulsive.

In Stageland

A man pulled up the river.
He pulled it up to stay.
As you'll surmise, 'twas in the flies,
And happened in a play.
The wind blew down the valley,
It almost killed two men.
But they were game and others came.
And set it up again.
A man tore up the sidewalk.
It wasn't in a race.
'Twas at a show and had to go.
Packed neatly in a case.

BUNCO PARTY AT MRS. W. F. BROWN'S HOMER

The spacious home of Mrs. W. T. Brown on North Pennsylvania avenue was the scene of a very enjoyable bunco party on Wednesday afternoon, January 27th, honoring Mrs. Wilson of Chicago, who is the house guest of Mrs. Pardee. Mrs. Liggett was the lucky winner of the first prize, Mrs. Rhoads the second, while Mrs. Riechmiller received the consolation. Mrs. Brown was ably assisted by his husband in serving the dainty refreshments of sandwiches, coffee, ice cream and cake.

The following ladies were present: Mesdames Bass, Cummings, Dawley, Parades, Klenhans, Wiley, Merriman, Van Hilper, Cottrell, Wilson, Brent, Alt, Warner, Liggett, Rhoads, Root, Poston, Riechmiller, Blackman, Riech, Brown and the Mesdames Harkness and Rice. The guests were from various states, as the roll call showed four from Michigan, two Ohio, one Indiana, six New York, four Illinois, two Minnesota, one Vermont, one District Columbia, one Nebraska, one Florida.

ENTERTAINERS FRIENDS Mrs. McCabe and Mrs. Crabbaugh entertained on Tuesday Mr. and Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Carlin, Bonner, Mrs. Francis Shank, Mrs. Hudson, Mr. and Mrs. Woolhouse and Mr. Knight. Refreshment of ice cream and cake were served and a most enjoyable time was had.

MRS. DAWLEY ENTERTAINS The Presbyterian club with their wives and husbands were entertained at the home of Mrs. C. A. Dawley on Tenth street East last Friday evening with a "Hard Times" party. All came in "hard times" costumes for a general frolic.

The costume judges were Mrs. A. T. Wilkinson, Mrs. Samantha Bartlett, Mr. J. J. Johnston. They being unable to decide which costume showed the hardest, times a ballot was taken and by popular vote Mrs. H. L. Hershey dressed as a hard times bride received the ladies' prize and Mr. H. L. Hershey dressed as a hard times groom received the men's prize. In the word contest first prize was won by Mrs. Grace Light.

The lunch was served on "Hard Times" dishes and strange to say none of them came apart during the process. The out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Wilkinson of Salem, Ala., and Mrs. Wright.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

On Tuesday, February 1st Mr. and Mrs. Edward Parades gave a birthday party at their home on Missouri avenue and Fifth street in honor of Mr. William Wilson, of Chicago, who is visiting them for the winter.

Thirty guests were present and the evening was spent in dancing. After which ice cream and cake was served and all declared they had a fine time.

LADIES OF PENNSYLVANIA HOTEL GIVE BRIDGE PARTY The ladies of the Hotel Pennsylvania gave another delightful bridge party last Thursday.

DISTRICT CONVENTION OF W. C. T. U. HELD FEB. 1ST

The Osceola District of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union held the yearly convention in the Temple building, Tuesday, Feb. 1st, with a large attendance. Miss Neal, the State president, and Mrs. Parker, the state vice president, were in attendance and were heartily welcomed as members of the convention. Mrs. Mary V. Boyer called the meeting to order at 9:30. Miss Neal led in prayer. Mr. Shore led the singing. He was very helpful through the convention, singing several solos and leading the singing.

Reports of work done by the different unions was first in order after a short address by the district president, Mrs. Boyer, and a timely talk by Miss Neal, who was much pleased by the reports and congratulated the different departments. Mrs. Rose Avery, president of Toft Union, gave a fine report.

Mrs. Foster of the Tribune made a nice talk in her straight forward, convincing manner, declaring that the W. C. T. U. women had for years been blazing the way for the betterment of the world. The work they were doing for purity and enforcement of law was at last bearing forth fruit, and she was always ready to do all she could in the temperance cause.

Miss Neal gave a very interesting address, advising that good news be always told, while bad news would do more harm by being circulated than otherwise. Volunteer captains were called for and twenty-two responded, each one promising to try and secure ten new members during the coming year. After the tourist presidents, of which there were several, were called upon to speak, and many responded, Miss Neal asked for a roll call of the states and it was found that members from ten states were in attendance, Ohio leading in numbers.

Election of officers was the last number on the program for the forenoon. Twelve delegates were present from St. Cloud and six from Kissimmee. This was only represented by one. Holopaw was not there in the morning but some came in the afternoon.

Mrs. Boyer was again elected as district president, Mrs. McPhatter of Kissimmee as recording secretary. She has served in this office for many years. Mrs. Hall of Kissimmee, treasurer; Mrs. A. H. Annable, St. Cloud, corresponding secretary.

Noontide song and noontide prayer finished the morning session.

There was a larger attendance in the afternoon, the auditorium being well filled. Mrs. Ward conducted the devotional. Mrs. McPhatter read the minutes of the last year's convention. Mrs. Houseman gave a short talk and was given the Chautauqua salute. Unfinished business was taken up and Mrs. Parker gave a report on the budget. Miss Neal explained the use of the budget and what it meant to the Union.

Mary A. Ritner read a paper on temperance work in the schools, singing by Mrs. Cole, Mrs. Linam, Mr. Shurva and others added to the enjoyment of the afternoon and served to lighten the regular business work.

The afternoon meeting closed at 5 o'clock to give time for supper and to allow all to attend a reception to be held at the Hunter Arms Hotel at 6:30. Mr. and Mrs. Berry, the host and hostess of this magnificent building, having invited the convention to use the spacious auditorium for this purpose.

At the appointed time delegates and members of the union met at the hotel and were received by Miss Richard, chairman of the receiving committee, and her assistants where they enjoyed a delightful social hour, which was enlivened by fine music.

The evening session began at 7:30 and was full of good things, the last and best being the Silver Medal Contest by Kissimmee and St. Cloud school girls, including Miss Beulah Pelagius, Miss Joy Makinson and Miss Rose McElroy of Kissimmee, and Miss Thelma Wetherbee and Miss Margarette Merrin of St. Cloud.

The contestants were enthusiastically received and were a pleasant surprise to every one who heard them as no one supposed we had such fine talent in our district.

Miss Neal declared it was one of the best contests she had heard from a class just beginning the work.

The three judges were not long in deciding on who had won the prize, though the audience had no idea who was entitled to it as all were so very good. Mr. Fledger of Kissimmee had the pleasure of announcing the winner and presenting the medal to Miss Merrin of St. Cloud. His presentation remarks were very commendable to the whole class and every one was delighted and happy.

The convention closed at 9:30 and will be long remembered as one of the best held in Osceola County.

BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA TROOP NO. 1

Oh, Boy only eleven more days till the court of honor and it is to be held in St. Cloud too. dig boy dig, now is your chance to go first class right at home.

What say? Oh, another new kid at the Western Union, yep that's about New from troop 1, Waynesville, N. C., talk about your fourteen mile hikes he does them every day.

We are wondering what because of that Zebra Patrol did they ever come in from their last hike.

You, all know your compass but did you ever think of the scout compass?

1. The point North on the scout compass is "Duty to God". 2. The point East on the scout compass is "Duty to Country". 3. The point South on the scout compass is "Duty to Others". 4. The point West on the scout compass is "Duty to Self".

Direct your course through life by the scout compass. "Kind, Obedient, cheerful, thrifty," on my honor I will do my best to do my duty to God and my Country. "Scout".

MISSIONARY RELATES THRILLING LANDING IN WAR-TORN CHINA IN FUSSILADE OF BULLETS

From a gospel meeting tent to missionary posts in China and Africa within the space of less than two years is the experience of Rev. Hugh Stoupe and Rev. Wm. Hammon, both of Pittsburgh, Pa. While they were in teens yet, they pitched their tent on the lot at the corner of Tenth street and Indiana avenue in March, 1925. And hundreds of citizens and countesses attended the meetings every day for two or three weeks, and many accepted Jesus Christ as their personal Saviour.

Monsters, Stoupe and Hammon are preachers and singers of wonderful ability, well equipped for God's service. Returning to Pittsburgh, they received calls to foreign missions, the former going to China and the latter to Africa.

A letter written to Miss Helen Philpott of this city, now attending Tennessee Wesleyan College at Athens, by Rev. Mr. Stoupe, who is at present stationed at Wanchow, Szechuan, China, is so full of interesting facts that we are pleased to reproduce it for the benefit of many of the Tribune readers who will no doubt read with much pleasure. The letter reads as follows:

About the "Chi-Ping," Ichang, Hupet, China,
Dec. 20, 1926.

Dear Helen:

As I recollect, the last time I wrote you was when I was being tossed upon the heaving bosom of Miss Pacific. (I suppose she is still a "miss" in spite of the long courtship of vigorous North Wind, the pleasant windings of Sir Archibald South Wind, the changeable advances of Mr. East Wind, and the plodding dogmatism of Mr. West Wind.) Since then I have seen Japan. Oh! not all of it but several interesting pieces, such as the famous Buddha at Kamakura, the great national sacred Mount Koshi, Yokohama, the scene of the terrible disaster, the beautiful inland sea, and the great port of Kobe, which has about 600,000 inhabitants. Quite an awful, I assure you. But I realize all this enumerating does you little good, at least, you get little satisfaction out of it, as I will go into more detail.

It was on Tuesday, November 23, that we once more got our feet on terra firma after eleven days on the Empress of Asia. But land or no land, the gods had decreed that we should have no more water, therefore it rained, pitchforks. (I) Nevertheless we determined, rain or no rain, that we would thwart any disquisitions of gods and we some of Japan. Already it was 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon but we hired a cab, though about ten ricksha men awaited us and through rain, mud and cold we started for the famous Buddha of Kamakura.

The ride was lots of fun, going all over the road in that car to dodge rickshas, men who preferred the lot of horses and walked in the street, two-wheel carts drawn by sorry looking horses with the driver in front pulling the horse or ox, and worse than all, passing on the left of approaching autos. I thought at first I should die of fright to see that food driven pull out to his left and seem to head for the approaching car but the other fellow must have hatched it all out before with our chauffeur in order to give us Americans a good scare. It seems the only possible explanation to me, the only thing that makes me doubt it is that he did the same thing with every other passing car, but, oh well, I suppose our driver knows all the other drivers and in order to give us a thrill arranged it all with them. Don't you think so? Anyway we saw lots of wonderful new sights. Imagine people pulling two big carts under each of their shoes and wearing those shoes on a rainy day. They all looked like a still walking contest, and made noise enough for a regiment of cavalry. Practical, yes, but my! the practice is most tame. We passed many quaint, doll like Japanese farms on our eighteen mile drive to Kamakura. Rice seemed to be the main crop and was grown everywhere in little plots with a two foot embankment between them giving a large field a crazy-quilt aspect. Everything seemed so quaint and miniature that the very atmosphere had that spirit about it. The little hills, rising abruptly, seemed made to order just for the quaint, pretty little people who live among them.

It was fast growing dark so we went to the Buddha first before visiting any of the other shrines we passed on the way. We went through two archways and up a long walk, which was bordered with grotesque images seemingly preying us for the great lauge, Buddha, which quietly and serenely appeared among the trees. If the sun had been having a frolic, which it was not, and the weeping clouds had cherished the comfort they refused, and the day had not been so soon weary of its miserable life, then I would have been sorry. Buddha does not show his true spirit under a clear sky but rather in the dusk of a cloudy day. On such a day, at such a time I saw him, for truly the statue has a personality, and then he could speak his loneliness, his emptiness and about his individuality.

and his power. I needed not to be told to remove my hat. The Christian, I could not stand in the face of twenty centuries of religious thought and remain unmoved.

On returning to Yokohama we stopped at several shrines but it was dark by that time and they only appeared to me as an adventure with mud and rain. We did not get into the real spirit of the shrines; it had been hard enough to work up any religious feeling under ideal conditions and under such adverse circumstances they became utterly impossible. We were glad to get back to the steamer at Yokohama.

When the sun arose the next morning he beheld first his own image, not only in the great ocean, but in every sparkling raindrop and puddle of the previous night full of vanity, he pleased us with his company the whole day, seeing Old Sol in such an amiable mood we proceeded forth into the city of Yokohama with the express intent of buying the town. We had not gone four blocks until we were hopelessly lost, but luckily an old drunken Japanese man had spotted us as strangers when we left the wharf, and knowing we would come to that inevitable end, he took us to some shops in which we spent about an hour of time and ten yen of money. Our boat left at 10 o'clock that morning so our old man took us back safely. The sight that impressed me the most that morning was the indomitable perseverance of the Japanese. Only three years before the city was made a complete wreck; now everywhere could be seen new buildings, quite-proof and modern, new bridges, improved streets being built in the same place, on the same ground on which they fell. It made me think of Kipling's words, "and here, and start again at your beginnings and never breathe a word about your loss." It is to be admired.

That day we had a beautiful cruise along the coast of Japan and never did we lose sight of the sacred national shrine, Mount Koshi. I tried to get a picture of the snow capped peak several times but, as I feared at the time, there was not sufficient contrast with the hazy horizon to make an impression, and oh! I am sorry, Japan would not be Japan without that snowy mountain and how the Japanese love it! They paint it upon their most costly tapestry and stamp it upon their worthless trinkets. It is no wonder, for like an old white headed sage it sits with knees crossed, blessing the surrounding country which ever it comes and teaching us the lesson that we ourselves cannot reconcile life to our own selves but we must day by day become reconciled to life.

The next morning we arrived at the port of Kobe. We did much buying there and became so fatigued that I have few fond recollections of the town. I remember photographing a miserable beggar and by so doing engendered a feeling such as I once had when I killed a thrush with a stone. It was pitiful. Again I remember a ricksha ride, my first, and the feeling of superiority, mingled with sympathy for the poor man who pulled me, at gave. I lost all of this latter feeling however when the ride was over and I found that this "donkey" I had was able to eat gold dollars, in fact, set up a howl until he got enough. Since then I have very little sympathy for rickshamen. We left Kobe that evening at five.

We were on the water all of the next day, at least, I believe we were in the water but I was, or had the foolish notion that I was back in Kobe checking revenge out of a Japanese cook whose Japanese meal had made me deathly sick. No, I did not enjoy the beautiful inland sea of Japan, with its fairy islands and enchanting bays (as the travelogue had said they were). In fact I enjoyed nothing and cared little when we arrived at Nagasaki and less when we left.

We were a day and a night crossing the Yellow Sea as we arrived in the mouth of the Yangtze Nov. 26th. China! The thought of it awakened me early and kept me at the port-hole for half an hour before dressing. I felt and asked God to bless the mission and the country in which I expected to spend my life for Him. That was Sunday. We arrived at Shanghai one hour later and got through the customs with little trouble and after we were whisked off to a missionary home in an auto and settled, went to the morning service at the Union Church at Shanghai. That day it rained so we stayed indoors most of the day.

We engaged passage on the "Kaiwo" which was to sail for Hankow Monday night, so consequently Monday was one mad rush with purchases, baggage, etc. We boarded our boat that night but did not sail until the next morning at daylight.

The Yangtze River is nothing to rave about; its water is not emerald but muddy, eternally muddy; its banks are neither flowerly nor beautiful but muddy, disgustingly muddy. They tell me that the Yangtze in its youth meets some bad company in Szechuan clay and has its character indelibly stained for life. In other words, this special clay forms a precipitate which will not settle out. The six-hundred mile trip to Hankow was altogether uninteresting. We arrived Saturday morning, Dec. 4th.

Hankow is a delightful city of about one million inhabitants. The River, a beautiful wide street, reaches seven miles along the river front. In the business section new buildings representing foreign banking concerns, and shipping companies, grace the foreground. Regret had a little place in our departure from Hankow for we knew it would be our last glimpse of European civilization for some time. The "Tung-Ting" left Hankow, Thursday, Dec. 7th and we were aboard her.

After two hundred miles more of

and we began to strike some interesting country on Sunday morning. We were enjoying the pleasant rural scenes—bamboos, quite cool and homelike nestled among the abrupt, green hills, temples and pagodas in conspicuous places, fishing sampans, spile and span, when suddenly the captain rushed into the salon and ordered us to the bridge immediately. Out of this peaceful scene came a hail of bullets directed at us. In the providence of the Lord, a Japanese boat coming down the river had drawn fire so that we had due warning before we came within range. In spite of the "ping," "ping," of the bullets on the armor plate about us a feeling of security filled us for we knew we were in His hand. The firing continued for about twenty minutes, the soldiers from the top of the hill sending lead through the roof of the pilot shed, and the bullets singing merrily about. We were only about one hundred yards from the shore and made good targets. By and by we got out of range and like rabbits out of a hole, went scuttling about for dead lead. Several men on board, late rivers, found an efficient alarm clock in the rifle fire, one waking up under a shower of splinters caused by bullets coming through his cabin wall. A number of windows were broken and holes could be seen everywhere along port deck. The captain had a bullet in his vitreous. Lots of fun. That same day we arrived in Ichang and were four hundred miles further on our journey.

Immediately upon dropping anchor, we got a sampans and went aboard a rapids boat to find out which would be the first to leave for Wanchow. The "Tung-Ting" was dated to sail the next day so we engaged passage up the river and rejoiced that we had been able to make such speedy connections. But alas, how little did we know what was to happen.

Though there is little fighting in Chinese war, much happens and sometimes in a very few days conditions are completely altered. The southern troops, mostly from Canton, are Reds. Last June they started a campaign against the north taking the city of Hankow from General Wu Pei Fu. Still successful these troops have made their way farther north to Ichang and frightened General Yang Sen, a second, of Szechuan Province back to his home in the west. The Sunday that brought us to Ichang also took this beastly general back to his mountains leaving his undisciplined army to take care of itself in Ichang. Consequently a lot of indiscriminate shooting was going on when we got there. The soldiers to save their own necks commenced all the steamers going up the rapids and our boat, the "Tung-Ting" (an American steamer) was not left out. Soldiers poured upon her decks and parked themselves all around our cabin, beds and all. However, Captain Smith of the American gunboat was not going to sit back and let these irresponsible brigands run away with an American ship. We were ordered off, for they feared the Chinese would hold us as hostages, a five inch gun was leveled on the bridge from the gunboat, and orders were given to fire if the boat moved. The bluff worked. By 5:00 o'clock Tuesday the soldiers were off the boat and she slipped anchor for up river before any one knew about it. Here is where our tale of woe comes in. We were not aboard her. Having been ordered to leave her we went to the gunboat, then back to the "Tung-Ting" on which we had come from Hankow, and now we are stranded in Ichang for no boats will go up river until Yang Sen and his men show themselves peaceful. The "Tung-Ting" has not yet returned though she has been gone over a week.

The Cantonese have now taken the city and in a way we are glad, for before they came the hangers-on of Yang Sen's army had raked havoc with the people. A soldier is a lord over the citizen. He gets what he wants or he shoots, whether it be transportation, food, clothing, service, or money. No one can prevent him, and neither can anyone punish him for the city in which he performs these stunts is under control of his army. We went ashore for just about one hour one day and during that time we saw two dead and one poor boy, beaten nearly to death by the soldiers, lying in a little alley way with his poor old mother holding his hand and weeping. I tell you, it makes one swallow hard to see some of these things go on unperceived.

Last week the conquering heroes of the south came sailing into port as big as life. There was a delegation to meet them with much pomp and ceremony. The next day these same soldiers routed all the stragglers of Yang Sen's army who were still in the city and there were about fifty killed on the beach across from us. Altogether they must have killed two hundred. Everything now is taking on a law and order aspect and we are once more able to go to bed without the sound of firing in our ears. Praise the Lord for the way we have been kept.

We hope to get up the river before the New Year, but so far little encouragement has been given to us. Pray for us, Helen, remembering especially the difficulty in learning the language and maintaining a steady, unflinching prayer life. God bless you. Write to us often.

I had only one day of busy buying in Shanghai and was unable to look up Rev. Hencamp's son-in-law. Tell your mother to write and send this letter on to her. Best regards to the men and forever to Frank. Please write, Frank, sincerely, HUGH.

A QUESTION

After reading a few of Machiavelli's essays on chicanery, one wonders how long he would last as a modern used car dealer. It would give him a great laugh, we know, to see how conscientiously we recondition our Used Cars before offering them for sale. But the proof of a principle is in its success—and the laugh would be on him, after all.

CATTELMEN TO FENCE THEIR RANGES NEAR ARCADIA

ARCADIA, Jan. 18.—Cattle men of Dakota county decided to virtually build a fence about this city to keep the cattle out, at the third mass meeting they have held to see what could be done to avoid an impending ordinance. While the definite decision was being reached the cattle men employed a rider who is keeping the cattle out of the city and out of the pound. The fence is not to be built entirely new but it will consist of new links which will connect up private fences at various distances from the city. In all there will be about five miles of new fencing. Cattle guards over the roads also will be installed.

The fences will extend from a point about a mile north of the city on Peace river eastward then southward guard placed at the Peace river bridge is calculated to effectively keep the cattle out west of the river.

W. L. Coon, chairman of the cattle men's organization, indicated that the fence be substantial and barbed wire chosen. Dick Pelham, city cattle officer, is being paid a salary by the city to keep the cattle out of the pound and held for fees.

Smiley Parker, Fols Williams and Dan Shaffer were appointed to get specifications for the fence and report at once to the other cattlemen. Abried Whidden is to have charge of raising the money for the fence. The cattlemen will bear their proportional share of the expense of building the fence although Mayor Dunham said the city council has virtually agreed to help.

This matter was brought to a crisis by Mayor Dunham enforcing the impending law when cows made nightly raids on city flowers, gardens and shrubbery.

The Fanna of Florida

The natural wild animal life is not varied as to the larger forms. Thousands of years ago elephants, tigers and other huge and fierce beasts were at home here. But now bear and deer are chief among the four footed kind of game. Squirrels, rabbits, foxes, opossums and coons are common. Among birds the wild turkey is chief, with geese and ducks in season, quail and many other of the feathered tribes both of land and water.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS HAVE ROAD PROBLEM SPECIAL MEET

even part of the county should get their roads complete and leave Kennaville district short. He was of the opinion that such road should be cut in proportion to the needs to meet the shortage of funds. He stated that at present his district has less than one person to a square mile.

Commissioner Nathan Bryan said that he was not in favor of any discrimination and when Mr. Thomasello asked the instructions he given to complete the graded road to Kennaville and place all rock surface possible on that road, Mr. Bryan made a motion which carried that this be done, which was agreed to.

Attorney Davis suggested that one way to complete all the roads laid out by the commissioners at request of the citizens, was to ask for an additional bond issue at an early date.

Mr. Thomasello suggested using the county drug line to complete the grade, and Attorney Davis advised the board to be careful about doing any work that might interfere with the contracts on these roads.

Engineer Joe Johnston was authorized to proceed with the grading all way to Kennaville and to begin placing the rock surface on the road at Holopaw and work south as far as money permits.

Dr. Hathaway to Be Invited

Discussing the probable location of the new Melbourne road across the county from Kissimmee and St. Cloud, the board decided by motion to invite Dr. Hathaway, chairman of the State Road Department, to come to Kissimmee and meet with the board at an early date. This was deemed advisable when Engineer Johnston reported that it was necessary to know the location of the Melbourne road, before knowing the proper place to start south from the Holopaw neighborhood with the Kennaville road. It was originally planned to carry this road from Holopaw through Kennaville to the Okeechobee county line, but it was discovered some months ago that funds would not permit the completion of the road planned and it was decided to make the cut on the Kennaville road.

Monday the board decided to stop all work until further notice on the Hickory Tree road, due to the fact that surveys have been made by the state road department that might make the completion of this road unnecessary when it is known the exact location of the state road. This road is now graded four miles and one-half south from the St. Cloud cemetery, at which point it connects with the present cross state road.

The state auditors report was read in full covering all offices and bond trustees of the county. Recommendations for changes in methods of keeping records were made in several instances, and the report was referred to the clerk and attorney for the board for checking with reports of the various departments.

C. L. Wheat got a $2,000 trade acceptance changed to four in smaller denominations in order to be able to use them as present for Chamber of Commerce needs. The amount was issued some time ago in one acceptance, which was found unsatisfactory to handle at this time.

E. A. Stroup took occasion to inform the board that was opposed to leading trade acceptances at any time for any purpose.

The question of maintenance of a little boy named Clarence Thompson, which had been looked after by action of the board since the lad was left an orphan some years ago, was referred to Juvenile Judge G. W. Oliver. The commissioners had cut the boy's allowance off when the new board came into office in January.

Mr. Newton, representing the Maklun Post, American Legion of Kissimmee, asked permission to use the commissioners' room for meeting of the legion, which was granted.

Instructions were given the engineer on the job to make the necessary fill on a low spot in building the Blair road, which is nearing completion.

Contracts Declared Void

On resolution introduced by O. R. Bleech all contract made with the old board of commissioners or any member thereof, (except the road contracts under the $2,000,000 bond issue) were declared null and void where it is found that same have not been approved by the new board.

Bills Must Be Sworn To

A motion prevailed that in future no bills will be paid by the board unless they have been sworn to by the person to whom the money is due. Heretofore the various commissioners and county officials have been putting their O. K. on all bills which were then sent to the board and paid. Any exceptional bills for special purposes have always been sent to the full board by the clerk and the approval of the board obtained before payment.

Mr. Wm. Carwell, of Kissimmee Park, asked the board to have some repairs made to certain roads in that section, stating that he had tried several times to reach the St. Cloud commissioner but was unable to find him. He stated that when he asked Mr. Parlin, commissioner from the eastern Kissimmee district about the matter he was told he would have to see Mr. Bleech at Kissimmee Park, who is in the Bleech district. He was referred to Mr. Bleech by the board to discuss the matter at noon so that it could be disposed of in the afternoon. An adjournment was taken at 1:45 until 2:00 p. m.

Afternoon Session

All members present except O. R. Bleech. Attorney Davis had been excused to attend a meeting of attorneys at Orlando.

There was some talk around the table after dinner Monday about employing an engineer to check up on the work done by the contractors on the big road program, and also check the estimates that had been filed by the engineers employed to supervise this work. The cost would have been one-eighth of one per cent. No action was taken on this matter, however.

The question of meeting the road contractors bills for the month of January was taken up. The auditors report showed some $290,000 on hand after the December estimates were paid, but the bank depository showed only about $175,000 cash on hand. Search of the minutes of meetings held to pay road contractors bills was made by the clerk and it was found that advances to contractors made when contracts were let, which would be deducted from their estimates as work progressed accounted for $74,143.36, and that the bond trustees had borrowed $8,172.92 for paying interest while waiting for taxes to come in. Thus the board is confronted with the problem of paying something like $225,000 next Monday and have only about $175,000 on hand.

Delivery of Bonds Discussed

This condition of the bond funds caused considerable discussion about the probability of making delivery of the remainder of the bonds (one million dollars), which had been delayed it is said because of a suit pending by Donald McKay against the old board, which it is understood has been carried to the supreme court, although the old board had sold the bonds on bids filed some time ago. The lower court refused to stop the sale, and the case was thought ended when the commissioners accepted a bid for the bonds.

It now develops that the fact that the case was sent to the supreme court at later date, causes bond buyers to hesitate taking the bonds.

A bid of $8.14 and accrued interest was made by the Shyten Co. of Toledo, Ohio, joined by some other bond houses, which was accepted when "strings" in the written bid were eliminated. Those "strings" provided that the bond buyers and the commissioner and trustees should name the depository and that the county would waive any interest payment on the deposit while the money was being spent. The strings being eliminated the record shows the bid accepted.

Later in the same day the board passed a resolution agreeing to the two things that had been eliminated, and it is understood Mr. McKay stated that he would withdraw his suit when the bond house accepted the bonds according to their bid, the money to be turned over to the trustees to be handled as provided by law. The law states that the trustees shall select the depository, and holds them responsible for handling the funds to the best advantage of the county.

Ignoring the later resolution about this matter the board instructed the clerk to notify the bond house that the commissioners were ready to deliver the bonds when the bond house was ready to accept them according to the original bid upon which they were awarded the issue. They were also to be asked to wire the clerk when they would be ready to pay over the bond money and take the bonds. Unless the bond house insists on the terms of the resolution it is probable that the matter will be settled in a few days.

The board adjourned until the regular meeting next Monday without reaching the several applications on file for road superintendents.

RESOLUTIONS ON DEATH H. EDMUND SWABEY

St. Cloud, Fla., Jan. 28, 1927.

The St. Cloud Tribune, St. Cloud, Fla.

Below you will find a copy of resolutions passed by the Narcosisse Chamber of Commerce on the death of Henry Edmund Swabey and I am directed to forward a copy to you with the request that you give publication to same in the columns of your splendid paper. The resolutions follow:

Whereas, The law of nature has again proven its immutability by the passing of Henry Edmund Swabey which occurred at the Orange General Hospital in Orlando on November 18, 1926; and

Whereas, Henry Edmund Swabey was a man of the highest type of honor; he lived to do good for others; his life was an open book of kindly deeds; he was loyal to his friends, considerate of the aged, and true to any trust reposed in him—he was truly a man among men; therefore be it

Resolved, In the passing of Henry Edmund Swabey the Narcosisse Chamber of Commerce has lost a loyal and valued member, the community a worthy citizen and his place among us will not be easily filled.

Resolved further, That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon our minutes, sent to his family and to the press of Osceola County.

Respectfully,
The Narcosisse Chamber of Commerce,
Roy E. Lowe, Secy.

Do not let your child be a student without a Remington Portable.

THE student who uses a Remington Portable Typewriter will tell you he couldn't get along without it, because it takes the drudgery out of writing up his lectures and preparing his reports and theses. Besides the time it saves, the Portable provides neater work than could possibly be turned out by hand. Profs are human, you know, and they appreciate and reward neat and legible work.

You'll find Remington Portables the handiest, fastest, and simplest to operate of all portables. It is the lightest (8½ pounds, net) and most compact portable (carrying case only 4 inches high) with four-row standard keyboard. Can be purchased for $10 down and $5 monthly.

VISITING MEMBERS OF
THE O. L. S. ENTERTAINED

The St. Cloud Chapter of the Order of Eastern Star, entertained at the club house in the city park Saturday afternoon in honor of visiting members of the Order. Graciously receiving the guests were: Mrs. A. P. Clark, worthy matron, Mrs. B. Stevens, Associate Matron; Mrs. H. E. Crawford, Counsellor, and Mrs. Grace Ladd, Associate Counsellor.

Fifteen tables were placed about the room for bridge, five hundred, and "rummy." Valentine cards were used. Mrs. D. L. Hapelle received high score prize for bridge and Mrs. E. J. Wilson, the high score prize for five hundred. Prizes were Florida novelty souvenir trays.

At the close of the games, tea and cookies were served at table presided over by Mesdames Josephine Turner, C. A. Dawley, Grace Ladd, and J. H. Brown. Radiance roses were at-

WILL TAKE TWENTY YEARS TO ERASE AMAZING
EVIDENCE OF WORLD WAR FROM BATTLEFIELDS

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 2. — Those who think that the traces of the great World war have entirely disappeared under the reconstruction era, will be amazed when they stand on the battlefields of nine years ago, Albert Greenlaw, of Augusta, Maine, resident member of the France Convention Committee in Paris, said upon arrival here to make his midyear report.

"Going north towards Etain," he said, "I saw a land desolate and bare. Hardly anything green was growing. The raw yellow earth was pock-marked with shell-holes. Bare as it looked, beneath the top-coating of the rain-washed soil are hidden rotting remains of war.

"Pieces of German gas mask, American trench helmets, the leather head rest rotted away, rusty shrapnel bits, old machine gun bullets, rotten machine gun belts—all these are there for the person who will scrape about a bit. The French government, still engaged in salvaging these battlefields where more than 200,000 men were killed, have stacks of old rifles, fragments of minenwerfers, shell casings—and lots, out of the broad stretch of dreary battlefield, there occasionally is brought to light the bones of a soldier who was killed, hastily buried and forgotten. These bones are being tenderly interred at the ossuary in Verdun, especially built for the purpose.

"So many French and Germans were killed here, later Americans died here in the bitterest fighting of the war, that the ossuary is continually receiving such bones, as the old battlefields are carefully gone over foot by foot."

From Chateau Thierry to the Vesdre River, from Soissons to Rheims, the work of rebuilding has progressed apace, Greenlaw said. Wheat again grows over the dumps that Americans made as they drove the Germans out of the Marne salient.

Yet here, too, Greenlaw said, in nooks and corners only known to the men who fought there, the remains of the great war can be found in quantities. It is estimated that it will take twenty years to clean up the debris left when the armies ceased fighting.

PRESBYTERIAN AID SOCIETY

Regular meeting Tuesday of the Westminster Aid of the Presbyterian church will be held at the church parlors at 2:30 p. m.

It is to be a pudding party. All women members and friends of the church and congregation will be cordially welcomed.

The hostesses will be Mrs. Dell Howard, Mrs. A. W. Hall, Mrs. Fuller and Mrs. Fowler.

One Remedy

In Massachusetts no one can get a license to drive an automobile who has not guaranteed his liability for damage on account of personal injury or death to other to the extent of $5,000 and $10,000; the first amount to pay for injury to two. The annual deaths from auto accidents equal that of a war. In Jacksonville alone last year thirty-seven were killed and hundreds injured. To judge from appearances a good many persons regardless of age or physical condition seem to be driving cars. Railroad engineers are subject to careful examination and many persons are found defective being color blind, hard of hearing, etc., deficiencies particularly dangerous on city streets.

ST. CLOUDLETS

Willard and Lester Stewart of Point Marion, Pa., friends of Dr. E. S. Tyler, have arrived in the city bringing their motor boat which they will launch in Lake Tohopekaliga and motor to Punta Gorda.

Mrs. Dugger and Mrs. Jones of Holopaw attended the W. C. T. U. in St. Cloud this week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Parlier took Miss Minnie Neal to Haines City where she took the train for Sebring and will attend the W. C. T. U. convention there today.

PLAY

Until recently play has been considered by many as a waste of time except for children; while today we see it filling a very important part in the life of the student.

Play helps us to become our best and react our full development. Play should not stop when we leave school. It should continue on through life.

Many people find it beneficial as a career for strenuous work. It is being carefully studied to find the best type suited to certain kind of people. Directors of sport recently have gone as far as divide a game for fat people. This new game has worked wonders and many fat people are able to keep down near to their normal weight with an minimum of effort, through a semi-strenuous game. Thus play ball has partially solved a very vexing problem.

Nearly all authorities agree that systematic gymnastics are necessary during the growing period of the student, in order to give a complete correlation of muscles as well as an all around development. And which is usually retained during the life of the individual. In view of this it ought to be possible for every normal student to have perfect poise; that is, be graceful and able to handle themselves with ease anywhere and become good athletes. However, they should not attempt too much at first, but gradually try all the regular types of sport until they find the one they like and one best suited to them. If they are careful of their choice they will make good and rank high on teams, as well as in individual play.

An all around development should be attained before they enter high school. If possible, yet it is not too late for regular gymnastic classes. They should participate in these as long as they continue to grow. This is very important and we must remember that the majority of students do not come to full development until they reach their junior or senior year in college. Yet there should be teams as well as individual play, especially during their junior and senior years in high schools. This is the time they usually find or show some indication of the game through which they may bring honor to their school as well as to themselves. By continuing their activity in the game of their choice they may reach heights beyond their most cherished ambitions.

In many communities we find a tendency to youthful crime. A great deal of this is no doubt owing to a lack of proper outlet for surplus energies. This is a manifestation of mischievous spirit gone wrong through lack of proper play. Play is almost as necessary as food. Children must have it. Why not provide them with proper play grounds, parks, gymnasiums, bathing beaches, under expert supervision. Then the problem will soon solve itself. This is the best kind of life insurance. The right kind of play lays a foundation for good morals and clean living—which in time means character.

Those who play for health and pleasure, do not think much about winning every game. The spirit of "winning all" is wrong. Learn to play properly and you will be hard to beat. Hardly do we hear of a good sports being concerned about whether they win or lose. Of course in a tournament one should play more carefully, but should not be over-anxious. A good loser usually learns something.

Always play in the open if possible. Do not be a lazy spectator of sport taste for yourself its zest and thrill. Advocate boxing. If an admission is charged do not patronize. Prize fights can not be a go without a suit fee. Do not lend your support to any sport that brutalizes a man or shames a woman.

We might name many great men and women who are past the age where many of us are depending upon a nurse to wait on us or a sanitarium for comfort. Yet they keep in their prime by making play part of their daily program.

John D. enjoys golf as much now as he did 80 years ago. Davis the Veteran Tennis player (winner of the famous Davis Cup) plays regularly and keeps up with many who are several years his junior. Gould for many years the leader of Squash and Hoops is also another man in spite of his years has taken the championship almost continually.

We might name several baseball players (Amateurs) who one beyond the usual age of retirement, still are going strong. By going still further in football, basket ball, etc., we will find countless numbers who are still young in spite of their years.

If you want to live long and be happy and keep your health, start while you are young. Do not wait until the doctor recommends a trip abroad or summons you to the hospital.

The parents who neglected play in their youth ought to be the first ones to see to it that their children should not suffer neglect, but have every advantage possible.

Business people need recreation exercise is not enough. Those who walk benefit little, unless they walk very briskly or for a long distance. Walking is no time for most of us, so we must resort to some kind of play to develop deep breathing. And deep breathing gives us lung capacity and corrects sluggish livers and quickens our senses, makes us alert revivifies our nerves and gives us vigor.

The auto saves us many hours, yet some claim they are too busy to take time for a regular recreation and strange to say some of these are only young married folks.

A man cannot afford to make his business a success at the cost of health, peace of mind or physical efficiency. He who is too busy to take time for recreation usually has to take time to be sick. On the other hand he who takes time for play, gains time for work.

Plainly we might say that play of

About the first inquiry a visitor makes who comes to Florida is where is the club. That is, he means golf, tennis, croquet, basket ball, etc. His wife possibly thinks more of entertainment, yet likes to go bathing and boating as well as he does. It is plain to me that the club privileges are more sought here than in the north.

That is why enterprising communities are providing the best they can afford—attractive, well kept, clean and accessible clubs and play grounds. Visitors do not care to stay long in a place where such privileges are not provided. Can we afford to be without them. This is worthy of serious consideration.
